

From: Adam C. McAlmont
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/17/02 8:43am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To whom it may concern:

I feel that any settlement should not allow Microsoft to pay a penalty by donating it's technology. I feel it is completely out of step with a punishment--it would only help Microsoft expand it's dominance in other areas.

Any penalty should be paid in cash--an amount that would have a strong effect on the company. Possibly a restructuring and division of Microsofts assets may also be appropriate.

However, the solution that allows Microsoft to expand into education where another company is strong (Apple Computer) only helps Microsoft, and that is not good. That is awarding the lawbreaker and would be outrageous.

Thank you,
Adam C. McAlmont

--

Adam C. McAlmont
P.O. Box 5537
St. Augustine, FL 32085

904-823-9682
mcalmont@mac.com